

Optimal Technologies International Inc. is expanding to become the leader in innovative grid optimization and building automation technologies. Optimal Technologies (US) Inc., a subsidiary of Optimal Technologies International Inc., is seeking experienced professionals with exceptional backgrounds in the design, and implementation of complex optimization, software and hardware systems.

This is an opportunity to be a part of a world-class team in an exciting and extraordinary time of Optimal's growth.

Position: Senior Developer, AskOT User Interface

This is a salaried full time position.

Responsibilities: Responsible for design and development of AskOT web based and embedded user interface applications.

- Work with a team of AskOT UI designer and developers.
- Understand the UI design specification and transform then into implementable tasks.
- Help the project manager to schedule and track the project completion dead lines.
- Break the UI development tasks into several small priority based milestones.
- Assign the milestones to junior developers and assist them with the development.
- Identify and report any technical issues and concerns to the team lead and or project manager and help resolve them as soon as possible.

Location: Research Triangle Park Area, North Carolina

Compensation: Excellent compensation and benefit plan including participation in bonus, stock option, and stock ownership plans. Compensation is based on experience and performance.

Minimum Qualifications:

- A minimum of 5 years of user interface software design and development experience.
- A bachelor's degree in Software Engineering or Computer Engineering or equivalent.
- Proficiency in user interface development tools or languages such as Adobe Flex/Flash, XML, Ajax, JSP, Javascript.
- Experience in hosting web applications in Apaches Tomcat.
- Hands on experience with open source tools and operating systems such as Linux.
- Excellent communication skills and fluent in English.

- Good team player capable of managing one or more developers independently.
- Strong willingness to learn new technologies and techniques.

Candidates with the following added qualifications will be given special priority:

- Degree or courses in user interface development.
- Java programming experience

Optimal Technologies is interested in inquiries and submittals from qualified candidates for this position. Please send inquiries, resumes, and salary requirements in Adobe Acrobat (pdf) format to askot-careers@otii.com